DIED SUDDENLY OF HEART DISEASE.

How frequently does a head line similar to the above greet us in the newspapers. The rush, push and strenuousness of the American people has a strong tendency to lead up to valvular and other affections of the heart, attended by irregular action, palpitation, dizziness, smothered sensations and other distressing symptoms.

Three of the prominent ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made are recommended by some of the leading writers on Materia Medica for the cure of just such cases. Golden Seal root, for instance, is said by the UNITED STATES DISPENSATORY, a standard authority, "to impart tone and increased power to the heart's action." Numerous other leading authorities represent Golden Seal as an unsurpassed tonic for the muscular system in general, and as the heart is almost wholly composed of muscular tissue, it naturally follows that it must be greatly strengthened by this superb, general tonic. But probably the most important ingredient of "Golden Medical Discovery," so far as its marvelous cures of valvular and other affections of the heart are concerned, is Stone root, or Collinsonia Can., Prof. Wm. Paine, author of Paine's Epitomy of Medicine, says of it:

"I, not long since, had a patient who was so much oppressed with valvular disease of the heart that his friends were obliged to carry him up-stairs. He, however, gradually recovered under the influence of Collinsonin (medicinal principle extracted from Stone root), and is now attending to his business. Heretofore physicians knew of no remedy for the removal of so distressing and so dangerous a malady. With them it was all guess-work, and it fearfully warned the afflicted that death was near at hand. Collinsonin unquestionably affords relief in such cases, and in most instances effects a cure."

Stone root is also recommended by Drs. Hale and Ellingwood, of Chicago, for valvular and other diseases of the heart. The latter says: "It is a heart tonic of direct and permanent influence."

"Golden Medical Discovery," not only cures serious heart affections, but is a most efficient general tonic and invigorator, strengthening the stomach, invigorating the liver, regulating the bowels and curing catarrha affections in all parts of the system.

LETTER FROM MUNICH.

Munich, Bavaria, Aug. 23. 1906.

Between the ages of six and sixteen years, it it by law compulsory that the German children attend school. Just now the school session is beginning, and any parent failing to enter his child, or children, punctually, is visited by an official and required to explain his negligence and enter his child immediately. For four years, the first four, most of the children in German cities attend the public schools, after that period, it is often the case that the more fortunate class of children attend private schools; all private schools, however, are subject to official inspection, and are required to follow the course of instruction prescribed for the public schools, in so far, at least, that upon entering the high school there may be no disparity in the work of students from the two schools.

One peculiar feature of the school work is the emphasis laid upon religious instruction. Another is the rigid physical examination.

As regards religious instruction, there are not so many sects to be dealt with as with us in America, still there are Jews, Catholics and Protestants. For the Hebrew children, their own Rabbi comes to the school at stated times, weekly; for the Romanists, their own priest, for the Protestants, their own pastor. So much stress is laid upon the matter, that in the final, all important examinations, upon which a boy's future standing practically rests, the voice of his religious instructor counts for double value; that is, his report is worth two, in making up the average of the student's record, while the report of any other instructor, is reckoned as one.

A German lady recently asked an American lady, in regard to the governess employed by the American, "Is she competent to give your children instruction in religion?" "That my dear madam" answered the America, "is a matter which devolves upon Christian parents and pastors, in American, and is not considered as a part of the school course." Space forbids that we tell of all the sanitary precautions, of the public baths in the schoolhouses, where, once a week, under the supervision of a teacher, each child must bathe; of the soup-kitchens, where hot lunch is provided, free, for little hungry ones, upon the teacher's recommendation; of the thorough training in gymnastics for boys and girls, of the free excursions planned for them, such as I wrote of from Switzerland; of the giant Christmas trees, where warm clothing and shoes, food and toys are distributed, in the name of the Christ Child.

Whatever may be lacking in the home the government endeavors to supply in the school; the idea is to give to the tax-payers as much as possible, not as little as possible, and to bring every wholesome, ennobling and encouraging influence to bear upon the development of the children of the nation, the future soldiers, statesmen, thinkers, laborers; the future wives and mothers, of Germany.

That your readers may form some idea of the supervision exercised over the sanitary condition of school-houses, and the physical condition of the children, your correspondent has found time to translate for the Gazette (between attendance upon picture exhibitions and performances of the Wagner opera) the following report. It is taken from one of the leading German newspapers, Die Munchner Neuste Nachrichten, of August 21, 1906, and is the report of Dr. Sichinger, of Mannheim, of the school examination.

[Translation.]

"With the Easter session of 1905, the regular duties of the school physician began. These comprised the examination of the sanitary condition of all the school buildings, and of the general conduct and government of the school, as well as an examination of the physical condition of each school-child, individually. The school physician visited each department of the school once a month and conferred with the principal over the sanitary and hygienic state of the school in general. Visiting each class, he carefully observed the positions taken by the children in sitting, especially while visiting; also the cleaning, ventilation and heating of each room. Sometimes these visit included a consultation hour in a separate room during, which the teachers, male and female, introduced to the physician special cases among the pupils, requiring private treatment. The results were taken down in writing.

"These statistics comprise the number of baths given in the school house, the number of free breakfasts furnished (3,105), the periodical excursions to points of educational interest, and the cases of special diseases, where further treatment was necessary, in which cases full information and advice were furnished to parents or guardians. Five thousand four hundred and twenty-six boys and 3,356 girls were regularly larly measured, in order that they might be assigned to beoches and desks of the proper proportion and height. (Many affections of the chest are traceable to the long hours, during which the growing child bends over an ill-fitting desk.)

"The especial efforts of the school physician are directed toward the newly entered and youngest children, whose parents are required to fill out a paper, answering questions regarding the child's physical, mental and moral condition. The physical examination was conducted in three divisions.

"1. A general examination of all children, and the separation of such as required special attention, and such as had contagious diseases, from the others.

"2. A precise and exact examination of the bowels, organs and general constitution of each child, with its weight, and measurement of chest expansion, in breathing.

"3. Thorough examination of eyes ears and throat.

"Children returning from a sojourn at a summer home for school children, supported at public expense, underwent a special examination, lest any contagious disease had been contracted, during their absence.

"The reports of the teachers in charge of this home were also inspected. The school physician must be consulted by all architects proposing to erect school buildings. The school physician is also a member of the school board. When one only glances at the case, as here briefly stated, it must be admitted that the institution of a school physician is one most beneficial to the well-being of the whole people, and one can only wonder that it was not long ago introduced! We congratulate ourselves at having finally acquired it!"

The report does not mention the monthly visit of a school dentist. Perhaps that is not provided for in the city of Mannheim, whence this report comes, but even that is provided for in Munich, and necessary dental surgery and attention is given, at the public cost, to the school children.

I think it will be agreed that the tax-payers get the worth of their money, and that the government makes every effort to give more, rather than less, in return for taxation.

The children are the most important factor in a nation's growth, power, integrity and prosperity. God bless them!

TUESDAY EVENING, SEPT. 11, 1906.

When I'm weary, very weary of the tire
some city streets,
With their putrid social scandals and their nauseating "beats,"
I enjoy the old home paper, though my comrades smile and sneer
As they see me scan the items of things to me near and dear.

The above, slightly altered, is one of the stanzas of a poem now going the rounds, and it will strike a responsive chord in souls which have grown weary of looking at handbill headlines over unimportant and equally uninteresting items, or at the sensational descriptions of the mistakes and failures of fallible men and women so glaringly portrayed in the papers of the larger cities. The morbid taste of a large per-centage of the admirers of such papers is ever thirsting for more of such matter, and in endeavors to make the supply equal to the demand the proprietors of metropolitan journals are severely taxed. There are times when the sober and conservative tire of such food and sigh for the actual news in a condensed form, as well as facts—not speculations. The home paper meets this want, and with its resume of the happenings throughout the world, contains all the local news, an important desideratum. Being part and parcel of the community, its bears its sorrows and rejoices when it rejoices. During our visits to other cities and climes the sight of a home paper is as the meeting with an old friend. Its modest headlines are familiar faces, animating us with thoughts of home. Those who tread the sequestered vale of life, whose sober thoughts ne'er lead them to stray, are always more interested in the paper of their own city than in those printed in other places, and especially so after having scanned columns in other journals in which they have no interest. It is a rest for the mind to read of things going on around us, and of people we know and among whom we move. The old-fashioned circus with its single ring was far more enjoyable than those of the present day when a patron, with one pair of eyes, attempts to watch the performances in three, and naturally fails to enjoy either. The modern journal is equally overdone, and in attempting to grasp all that is set forth in a mass of matter, a large per-centage of which is insipid to many, the reader fails to feed his mind as satisfactorily as he could were a less extensive literary bill of fare presented.

SENATOR LA FOLLETTE, of Wisconsin, in a speech at Darlington recently paid a glowing tribute to the democrats of his State when he said: "I will never forget what we owe the democrats of this State who were patriotic enough to put party behind and join with us in saving the State from corporation rule." How different the treatment meted out to the democrats by the President when they have aided him in legislation or at the polls. Nothing but abuse or disdain has emenated from him, even to those he has invited to aid him. Remember his treatment of Senators Bailey and Tillman, which no democrat can forget. And yet Mr. Roosevelt might have continued unknown if President Cleveland had not given him his first political lift nationally by appointing him a member of the civil service commission.

ACCORDING to the official returns, the domestic exports of Canada for the year ended June 30 amounted in value to $235,488,960—a gain of $44,529,010 over the exports of last year. Strange to say, the trade of Canada is rapidly expanding without the miraculous push of a Dingley tariff.

THE REPUBLICAN congressional committee has dropped the $1 subscription plan, which was only a fake to fool the voters and are receiving liberal subscriptions from the tariff protected interests and corporations that can be made to fear the anti-trust law.

THE COWBOYS who have heard of President Roosevelt's new method of spelling declare it is "great" and the Ruf Riders are suspected of being its originators.

Lieutenant Killed by Pulajanes

Manila, Sept. 11.—Lieutenants R. E. Treadwell, commanding a small detachment of Philippine scouts, was killed by pulajanes in an attack last night on the bivouac of the scouts near Baraven. Troops are persuit of the band, which numbered 100 men. Lieut. Treadwell was the only man hit during the fight.

A band of pulajanes which attacked by troops and constabulary near Sitio Narbo, and lost one killed and several wounded. The troops suffered no casualties and captured a large quantity of supplies.

Stensland Attempts Suicide.

Tangier, Morocco, Sept. 11.—Paul O. Stensland, the defaulting president of the Chicago Milwaukee Avenue State Bank, who is under arrest in this city awaiting return to the United States, attempted suicide today by taking poison. Stensland is seriously ill as a result of his attempt on his life. Twelve guards are now employed to see that he has no further chance to attempt his life. If his condition warrants he will sail for home tomorrow on the Prinz Adelbert.

From Washington.

Washington, Sept. 11

Secretary Bonaparte announced this morning the selection of Pay Director Eustace B. Rogers, at present stationed at the Boston Navy Yard, to be Paymaster General of the Navy. He will succeed Paymaster General Henry T. B. Harris.

Col. Culver C. Sniffen has been appointed paymaster general of the army to succeed Brid. Gen. Francis S. Dodge who retired today. Col. Sniffen is now on duty in New York city.

The cruiser Des Moines, which sailed yesterday from Norfolk, Va., under sealed orders, is bound for Key West, Florida, from whence she will be sent to Havana, Cuba, to protect American interests in that vicinity should the occasion warrant. The utmost secrecy is being maintained at both the Navy and State Departments relative to the mission of the Des Moines, but it is said that she is intended for Cuban service if the situation in and around Havana continues to get worse. There is no question but that the Des Moines sailed from Norfolk for the south at the request of the State Department. Acting Secretary of State Bacon declined this morning to make public the destination of the ship, but it was intimated officially that she will make directly for Key West where she will get further orders. If, when she reaches the Florida coast, there is need for protection for American interests in Cuba, she will be rushed for Havana. There is reason to say that some request has already been made by the United States representatives in Cuba for protection of American citizens and property in the vicinity of Havana.

The trial by courtmartial of Capt. Samuel P. Comly, commanding the battleship Alabama, and Lieut. Alfred W. Pressey, who was deck officer of that ship at the time of the recent collision with the Iowa off Newport, was this morning formally ordered by the Secretary of the Navy.

Assistant District Attorney Turner says that the government has all the evidence it wants in the case of Miss Helen E. Puckett, charged with forging the name of Mrs. Frances Sprigg Perry and obtaining money under false pretenses. The case was called in the police court today.

According to advices received by the War Department this afternoon there has been another fight with Pulajanes at Bauen, Leyte. First Lieut. Roscoe Treadwell, of the Philippine scouts was killed. No details are given. Lieut. Treadwell was a native of Arkansas, and entered the Spanish war as a sergeant in the First Idaho Volunteer Infantry. He was appointed First Lieutenant of the Philippine scouts in 1901.

Married an Imposter.

Doubly deceived was a young woman who married in New York on August 7 a man describing himself as William Judson Lawson. Not only did he desert her three days after marriage, but he falsely represented to her that he was the son of Thomas W. Lawson, the Boston banker. Mr. Lawson has only one grown son—Arnold Lawson—and there is no question of possibility that he can be the man tangled up in this case.

Before her marriage the name of the young woman was Alice Bandos Douquin. She is the daughter of a ranchman living at Kirbyville, Mont. For the past year and a half she has lived in New York with old friends of her family.

According to the story, she met the man, who is 21 years old, late in July. He proposed to her after a few days, and they were married two weeks after their first meeting. The wedding ceremony was performed at Providence, R. I. The young couple went to New York and lived at the home of the girl's friends.

Lawson told his wife that he would go to Boston and break the news of the marriage to his father in a few days. He left her on August 10 ostensibly to go to Boston. A few days later she got a letter from him, posted in New York, in which he said that his father had threatened to disinherit him on account of the marriage. She neither saw nor heard from him again until Sunday, when he called to see her. He said he loved her, but his father had persauded him to give her up.

The young woman says she fears he is about to sail for Europe.

Divorced Rector, to Win Girl, Quits Pulpit.

Philadelphia, September 11.—After sacrificing his position in the Protestant Episcopal Church and establishing himself as a real estate broker in Seattle, the Rev. R. A. Roderick, formerly rector of St. Paul's, Camden, has succeeded in winning Miss Ethel Potts Grey. Miss Grey is a handsome young woman, a daughter of the late Attorney General Grey, of New Jersey. Mr. Roderick's first wife was a Miss Mills, of Mount Holly. They were divorced, and while the case was pending Miss Grey did everything in her power to effect a reconciliation. She even went so far as to make the assertion that she would never marry a divorced man. The Episcopal Church does not allow its ministers to remarry after divorce. Soon after obtaining his divorce Mr. Roderick gave up his charge and went West. Until he reappeared in Camden a few days ago, it was supposed that the friendship between him and Miss Grey was at an end. The wedding is to take place today. George J Bergen, of Haddonfield, a brother in-law of Miss Grey, said that the ceremony would be performed at the Bellevue Starford by a Philadelphia clergyman. Despite that assertion there is a persistent rumor that the wedding will take place at Mr. Bergen's home.

Bride With No. 11 Foot in a Fix.

A bride at Roe Heights, near Miller, S. D., whose name is withheld by the shoe dealers, will have to postpone her wedding or be married without the bridal slippers she has set her heart upon. She requires a number 11, double E, and there is not a pair in town. Rush orders have been sent to manufacturers in St. Paul, but they wired back today that it will require 30 days to fill the order, as the slippers will have to be made over a man's last and special patterns will have to be cut. It is considered likely the bride will wear her old shoes or borrow a pair of her father's boots for the festive occasion. Roe Heights is tremendously proud of the fact that it has developed a girl with the largest feet in the country.

Herman G. Stabb and John Anderson, the two private detectives, who figured in the Harije divorce case and testified for Augustus Hartje that they broke open the trunk of Thomas Madine, the coachman, and one of the co-respondents in the case, and in that way procured some of the letters alleged to have been written by Mrs. Harije, were yesterday indicted by the grand jury in Pittsburg on the charge of entering a building with intent to commit a felony.

Law to be Enforced.

Paris, Sept. 11.—Despite the stand taken by the Vatican in the recent enclycial issued to the French clergy, that lay associations to take charge of Catholic churches cannot be allowed, there will be no back down in regard to the strict enforcement of the separation law on the part of the government. This subject was again discussed at todays cabinet meeting, and it was decided to apply the law strictly and impartially regardless of the attitude of the pontiff.

News of the Day.

The German war game culminated in a collision yesterday between the cavalry and artillery divisions. Emperor William and his American and other foreign guests observed the operations.

Surgeon-General P. M. Rixey, of the navy, returned to Washington yesterday after an inspection tour of all the leading naval hospitals in the world. He says that he feels that his visit has been in every way a success and that he will continue his policies for the future conduct of American naval hospitals and medical schools, based on his investigations, in his next annual report.

Martial law has been proclaimed by the Cuban government. Almost all the members of the revolutionary Junta and many of the liberal leaders, including Dr. O'Farril, have been arrested. The amnesty proclaimed on August 27, promising pardon to all rebels who surrendered, has been recalled and President Palma has decreed the suspension of all constitutional guarantees.

A dispatch from Tiflis says that practically without warning the side of a mountain rising above the township of Kwareli broke away and in a sea of semi-liquid mud, sand and stones swept down on the township and overwhelmed and obliterated it. Some 255 persons have been buried alive. Fifty-five bodies already have been recovered from the mire, which is about six feet deep. In addition to the lives lost countless head of cattle perished and the crops were destroyed.

The Roosevelt cup, presented by the Eastern Yacht Club to inaugurate yachting contests between Germany and America, was won at Marblehead, Mass., yesterday by the American yacht Vim, owned by Commodore T. L. Park, of the American Yacht Club, of New York. By taking yesterday's race, the Vim scored her third victory, which gave her owner the cup, as well as the honor of showing that his yacht was the best all-round craft of the six that started in the series begun a week ago.

The second section of a southbound train on the Southern Pacific coast line from San Francisco was wrecked yesterday at Sea Cliff, a side track 20 miles south of Santa Barbara, the wrecked cars rolling down to the ocean shore, and 27 persons were injured, two of whom may die. The wreck occurred at a point where the roadbed runs near the Pacific ocean on an embankment. Some part of the locomotive broke and dropped on the ties, causing the locomotive to leave the rails. The baggage car and four coaches followed, and all toppled over and slid down the embankment. There were no sleeping cars on the train.

The Bonds Were Called In.

A telegram from Philadelphia says:

New evidence of Frank K. Hipple's ingenuity in tortuous finance was uncovered in Philadelphia yesterday, when investigation by District Attorney Bell and his assistants, Taulane and Gray, added to the long list of dubious loans a note to the amount of $45,000 to the order of W. H. Whitesides, who has been classed as an agent of Segal. Jugglery by Hipple with the stock of the International Match Company was also made apparent.

The $45,000 was an item of the $500,000 of dubious loans, which have been listed by experts as being outside of $300,000, in Segal securities. Through the appearance of Whitesides in the transaction, the $45,000 notes, it is now believed, should be classed with the Segal indebtedness. The collateral back of the note is a bundle of 50 5 per cent. bonds of the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway Company. It was thought at first that these bonds were good. Closer examination shows that the bonds are numbered from 700 to 750. District Attorney Bell has been informed that the issue of the bonds, which included these numbers was called in, and that these particular bonds were replaced by others of a new series. They should, therefore, have been burned, if the District Attorney's information is correct, and their value is nothing. Mr. Bell is very anxious to get into communication with Griffith E. Abbott whose home is said to be in Bryn Mawr, and with J. K. Schwartz, whose office address is given as 9 Broadway, New York. It is reported that Schwartz and Hipple were associated in the organization of the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway Company and the New Alexandria Land and River Improvement Company, both of which concerns issued bonds which have been found in large numbers in the vaults of the Real Estate Trust Company. Assistant District Attorney Taulane wrote to both of the men Saturday asking them to meet him yesterday. He had received no replies late last night.

An official of the Mount Vernon Company in Washington was shown the statement in regard to the amount alleged to have been sunk at New Alexandria, and he said: "It is a fact that Hipple had great faith in New Alexandria, but others were as sanguine as he, and risked their money in the venture with him. Every one hereabouts knows the result. New Alexandria failed to develop into the manufacturing center that those who went into the enterprise had expected, but that $2,000,000 was expended in the effort to build a city on the south bank of Hunting Creek is absurd. At the very outside, New Alexandria cost Hipple and his associates $225,000. The land on which New Alexandria was located cost about $125,000, and I am told that it is still on the south bank of Hunting Creek. The various enterprises that were started when an effort was made to boom the town were the result of outside investment, and their failure cannot be laid at Hipple's door, however great his faults may have been."

COURT OF APPEALS.

The following business was transacted in the Supreme Court of Appeals at Staunton yesterday:

C. B. Williams vs. Virginia State Insurance Company, from Circuit Court of Nelson, transferred to Richmond.

J. Thompson Brown vs. Howard and Whitehead, trustees, from Circuit Court of Amherst, transferred to Richmond.

Natural Bridge Development Company vs. Natural Bridge Park Company; dismissed; agreed.

Virginia News.

The State Corporation Commission today resumed its hearing of the freight rate and classification cases after a long recess.

A vicious bull belonging to Dr. D. J. Boland, of Roanoke, yesterday gored to death three horses in a pasture on the farm of John Myers, near the city.

Governor Swanson, Mayor McCarthy and the executive board of the Virginia State Fair Association have extended an invitation to William Jennings Bryan to attend the State fair some time between October 9 and 15, the opening and closing dates.

Commissioner George W. Koiner returned to Richmond yesterday from his tour of several countries in Europe, particularly England, where he went to induce desirable farm labor to come to this country. He is enthusiastic over the prospect and will make a full report to the Governor, perhaps tomorrow.

John Smith, colored, was brought from the Princess Anne county jail to the Norfolk city jail yesterday for safekeeping, it being feared that he would be lynched if allowed to remain in the county. The charge against Smith is that he attempted a criminal assault on Mrs. Leggett, a resident of the Nimmos Church section of Princess Anne. The assault is alleged to have been attempted on Saturday night.

Rev. J. Poyntz Tyler, archdeacon, has been called to the rectorship of St. Paul's Church, Key West, Fla. This is the strongest and most important parish in the missionary jurisdiction of Southern Florida. Mr. Tyler has been archdeacon of this diocese two years. He came here from the Church of the Advent, Philadelphia, where he had been rector eight years. He is a Virginian by birth and graduate of the Virginia Theological Seminary near Alexandria.

Attorney General Anderson has just prepared an opinion in regard to section 667 of the code, which is of interest to all State officers. It relates to the expenses incurred in the arrest or detention of criminals outside the State, and rules that all expenses in connection therewith must be paid out of the general fund. The bills, however, should be sent to the auditor, who will present them to the Governor for his approval, and they will be paid by the treasurer.

Littlefield Re-elected.

Gov. William T. Cobb, of Rockland, Me., republican, standing on a platform devoted almost exclusively to a continuance of the prohibitory law of the State, was re-elected by a plurality of 8,000, with but few exceptions the smallest margin of votes ever given a republican governor in the State of Maine.

Cyrus W. Davis, of Waterville, the democratic candidate for governor, polled one of the largest votes in the history of the party in Maine. His issue in the campaign was the resubmission of the liquor question which was incorporated in the State legislature four years ago.

More interesting from a certain standpoint was the re-election of Congressman Charles E. Littlefield (rep.), of the Second congressional district, by a greatly reduced plurality. Congressman Littlefield's candidacy was the subject of bitter opposition on the part of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who asked for his defeat on the grounds that he had voted against certain labor measures at the last session of Congress.

The issue between Gompers and Littlefield was taken up by the republican congressional committee, and for three weeks the district has been the scene of a hard fight, in which Secretary of War William H. Taft, Senator Lodge and Senator Beveridge and several congressmen were pitted against the head of the Federation of Labor.

Mr. Littlefield's plurality is estimated at about 1,000.

Congressman Edwin C. Burleigh, of Augusta, republican, was re-elected in the third district by an estimated plurality of 2,000, and Congressman Llewellyn Powers, of Houlton, republican, in the fourth district by a plurality estimated at 2,000.

The re-election of Congressman Ames L. Allen, of Alfred, in the first district, is claimed by the republican leaders. The legislature will be republican.

Herman Oelrichs' Will,

Herman Oelrichs, who died at sea on September 1, left the bulk of his estate to his brother, Charles May Oelrichs, and to his sister, Mrs. Lucy Jay. His wife, from whom he had been estranged for sometime, is cut off from any bequest and the statement made that she "has an ample fortune of her own." To the son, Herman Oelrichs, jr., nothing is left but pieces of jewelry, guns and some other personal effects. Other relatives, his secretary and his valet are remembered in his will. The will was filed for probate in San Francisco yesterday. To his half-sister, Mary Singleton Livingston, Mr. Oelrichs bequeathed the sum of $30,000, with the proviso that in case she or her heirs contest, the bequest shall be null and void.

A specific bequest of $300,000 is made to his brother, Charles May Oelrichs, and $100,000 is left to Mrs. Jay. The residue of the estate, both real, personal and mixed, is left to his brother, Charles May Oelrichs, who is also named as sole executor.

The will is dated June 11, 1906. The petition accompanying the document states that the value of the estate is unknown.

New York, Sept. 11.—The late Hermann Oelrichs, it developed today, made two wills, one in which he left his wordly possessions to his wife, formerly Miss Theresa Alice Fair, and his son, and the other document offered for probate yesterday, in which all of his property was distributed among his blood relatives, without a bequest to his wife.

Advices from the west are to the effect that the will offered for probate yesterday by Mr. Oelrichs' lood relatives was an extraordinary surprise to the widow.

Today's Telegraphic News

New York Politics.

New York, Sept. 11.—Balked by an eleventh-hour opposition, the Hearst leaders have thrown overboard their plan to only nominate the head of the independent league ticket, and then await the action of the democratic convention. It has been planned to name only Mr. Hearst for governor, and have the independent league convention select a nominating committee, which would choose the remainder of the ticket if the democratic convention at Buffalo did not indorse Mr. Hearst. This plan meant practical fusion with Mr. Hearst at the head of the ticket, and democratic nominees for the rest of the offices.

A sputtering opposition developed last night into a stormy protest against such a plan by up-state Hearst men.

The State committeemen met at midnight to lock horns over the question. The meeting was not called until a late hour in order that those who had become somewhat caloric might cool off.

The meeting, however, was full of expression of thought and disposition. Threats were made that if an attempt was made to jam through a fusion with the democrats there would be a bolt in the convention.

The resolution of William J. Connors, of Buffalo, to delay action upon the State committee until the democratic convention was talked over by Mr. Conners himself. The discussion became general and somewhat acromonious and a hurry call was sent for Mr. Hearst. He was invited to speak, but declined to do so until he had acquainted himself with the situation. After the committemen had spoken their views Mr. Hearst took the floor. He told the committee that he was in favor of naming a full ticket at the same time selecting a committee to confer with a committee representing the democratic State convention.

Former State Senator William F. Mackey, of Buffalo, then offered a resolution referring the Connors' resolution to the league convention with the recommendation that it be submitted to the committee on resolutions when appointed. This means that the convention will nominate a straight ticket and appoint a committee to discuss fusion with a similar committee appointed by the democrats at Buffalo.

The State committee adjourned today after taking this action. What form of fusion that may grow out of this situation can only be imagined for the outlook possesses numerous possibilities.

The convention of the independent league will be called to order at noon today in Carnegie Hall by Max Ihmsen, chairman of the State league committee, and temporary officers selected.

Carnegie Hall, New York, Sept. 11.—Representing in the past all shades and hues of the body politic, but now united in enthusiasm for William R. Hearst, New Yorkers to the number of 1,611 gathered at noon today for the first convention of the Independence League in Carnegie Hall. The delegates will nominate Wm. Randolph Hearst for Governor and an entire state ticket upon a platform enunciating the principles of Hearst's doctrine. Having abandoned the first plan to postpone filling the minor places on the ticket until after the Buffalo convention, it was today understood that all candidates to be nominated except Mr. Hearst will be willing to get off in case fusion with the democrats becomes possible.

Shortly before one o'clock, Max Ihmsen, chairman of the league's state committee, called the convention to order.

Secretary De Ford read the call for the convention which provoked much discussion. The mention of William Randolph Hearst as the candidate for the head of the ticket brought the delegates to their feet and for seven minutes by the watch Carnegie Hall was the storm centre of deafening cheers and wild enthusiasm. The band played and the delegations, carrying totem poles, marched up and down the aisles.

Secretary De Ford waved his arm for silence but the delegates came to yell and cheer, and they did not stop until physical exhaustion ended the demonstration.

The next business was the appointment of committee on credentials, resolutions and permanent organization. The committees will meet at 4 p. m.

The convention then adjourned until 8 o'clock.

Conditions in Cuba.

Havana, Sept. 11.—President Palma has virtually assumed the negotiations for peace which the Veterans' Association has been conducting.

Martial law was declared last night, and the constitutional guarantees have been suspended by Palma in the provinces of Pinar del Rio, Havana and Santa Clara. This gives Palma practically absolute power, and he is evidently determined to rule by force until the revolution is crushed.

Throughout every province of the island there are hundreds of persons whose sympathies are with the insurgents in the field, but who refrained from taking a part in the war on the government, believing the reforms they desire would be won by peaceful methods. These men are now ready to join the insurgents.

Reports from various sections state that men are already leaving the cities to join the rebel bands.

Havana, Sept. 11.—Insurgent parties are organizing in the suburbs of Havana, and knowledge of this fact is keeping the city in a furor of excitement. It is feared an uprising may occur within the capital at any time.

Such an outbreak occurred late yesterday afternoon in Cienfuegos. Insurgents after a battle with the police in the heart of the city fought their way through the government lines and escaped to the country to join one of the rebel bands.

During the night, a building near the government palace here was sent on fire and a panic was created among the palace guards, who feared an insurgent attack. It is feared uncendiaries may try to burn the palace tonight.

Block Collapses.

Altoona, Pa., Sept. 11.—As a result of an excavation made on an adjoining lot a large three story business block collapsed here today, injuring several persons. A novel feature of the accident was the escape from death of Miss Lizzie Adams, who was on a sick bed on the second floor of the collapsed building. The room was cut squarely in two and half of it went down, leaving the half of the room in which the bed stood unharmed.

In these days of rush and hurry courtesy is often forgotten. In the mad, pell mell rush of our little life things are done to offend that we rather remained undone. A hastily eaten meal and its resultant headache may cause us social or financial loss. The wise man or woman is the one who relieves little ills of this sort by a little dose of Kodal For Dyspepsia. It digests what you eat. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Massacre of Jews.

Warsaw, Poland, Sept. 11.—The massacre of Jews at Siedlce has been renewed owing the refusal of the members of the Jewish bund to surrender and today has witnessed a repetition of the scenes of carnage enacted there since Sunday.

Fearing that the Governor Engelke's demand for the surrender of members of the Jewish self-defense association meant to hand the men to whose efforts resistance to the soldiers in yesterday's rioting was organized, to certain death or torture, the Bundists chose open fighting. Troops are again engaged in the attack on Jewish houses in which the victims of the soldiers' vengeance have entrenched themselves.

Many victims were not killed outright, but were tortured for hours before death came to relieve their sufferings. Soldiers hacked Jews to pieces with their knives and swords.

Women became the especial victims of the fiends. After been assaulted by soldiers, often in the streets, in many instances their clothes were torn off and lighted candles were passed across their bare bodies, inflicting agonizing burns. In one instance the Jew baiters set fire to a house in which eight luckless Hebrews had taken refuge, and the latter were burned to death.

Warsaw, Sept. 11.—Siedlce, the scene of the most recent anti-semitic outrage, was today the scene of horrors. Peace has been restored temporarily at least, but no effort has been made to remove the stains of the horrors committed there.

After a resumption of the massacre in the early hours of the morning, the soldiers were called off, the authorities evidently being convinced that the Jews would fight to the end rather than surrender members of the self-defense association at Governor Engelke's command to certain death or torture. Troops are still encamped in the streets, however. Famine now threatens the city. The authorities are bent on capturing the terrorists they hold responsible for inciting the outbreak, and no one is allowed to pass the city limits lest some terrorists escape.

Figures given today in regard to the casualties during the massacre fix the number of killed at 170 and the wounded at 400.

Warsaw, Sept. 11.—Strenuous efforts are being made by the authorities here to see that there shall be no revolutionary outbreak following the massacre at Siedlce. All terrorists and suspected revolutionaries are being taken into custody to prevent them from leading an uprising. Since yesterday over 200 houses have been searched by the police for suspects and 1,000 arrests have been made.

The Maine Election.

Portland, Me., Sept. 11.—The democrats of Maine are telling their brethren throughout the country that the result of yesterday's election presages a general movement toward the old party which will culminate in a democratic national victory in 1908, the republicans insist that the reduction in Governor Cobb's majority is due to local causes only. After one of the briskest campaigns in the history of the Pine Tree State, Governor Wm. T. Cobb, republican, was re-elected by a majority of 7,500, the smallest the party vote ever polled since it recaptured the State from the green backers, in 1892. Congressman Littlefield's majority of 1,500 is considered by the labor leaders, who fought him, as a "moral victory." They assert that they will keep up the struggle, and defeat Littlefield if he is renominated two years hence. Portland, the largest city in the state, elected an entire democratic county ticket, with a solid democratic representation in the legislature.

Plot to Assassinate Emperor William.

Breslau, Sept. 11.—A plot to assassinate Kaiser William during the present army maneuvers in this region has just been frustrated through the activity of the secret police. Three anarchists involved in the conspiracy against the monarch are now under arrest. The prisoners are an Italian anarchist named Matacci, a Pole by the name of Landenberger, and a Czech anarchist, Fliegner. Documents found in the possession of the prisoners show conclusively that they are associated with the inner circle of the interational organization of anarchists and that the Kaiser's death was plotted by this organization. All plans for the attack on the Kaiser had been carefully arranged and the plot was discovered just in the nick of time, as the conspirators were only waiting an opportunity to get near the Emperor while he is attending the maneuvers. Today might have given this opportunity and it is believed the Kaiser had a narrow escape from death.

Note Under Wife's Plate.

Goldsboro, N. C., Sept. 11.—John Lane, a merchant keeping a general store on north John street, has disappeared from his home in this city, and his whereabouts are unknown. His wife was not at home for supper Saturday night, and he left the keys to his store, together with a note addressed to his creditors telling them to dispose of his stock and take their pay. The keys and note were left under his wife's plate. She thought it some joke he was playing on her, and did not take the matter seriously until he did not return yesterday afternoon. It is not thought that the few small debts that he owed drove him away from home, and it is hard to account for his disappearance.

Mr. Bryan in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Sept. 11.—W. J. Bryan arrived here this morning. He was greeted by a large crowd at Union Station. Accompanied by the reception committee and escorted by a cordon of mounted police, he was driven immediately to the Jefferson Hotel. Mr. Bryan will hold a reception this morning at the Jefferson Hotel and another this afternoon at the Jefferson Club. This evening he will deliver an address at the Coliseum.

Saturday next, September 15, will witness the passing of Lieut.-Gen. Henry C. Corbin, United States army, to the retired list, and the introduction of Lieut.-Gen. Arthur MacArthur, his successor.

Rescue of a Merchant.

A prominent merchant of Shongo, N. Y., J. A. Johnson, says: "Several years ago I contracted a cough which grew worse, until I was hardly able to move around. I coughed constantly and nothing relieved my terrible suffering until I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. Before I had taken half a bottle my cough was much better, and in a short time I was entirely cured. I surely believe it saved my life. It will always be my family remedy for colds?" Fully guaranteed; 50c and $100 at F. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store. Trial bottle free.

The Corporation Commission.

(Special Dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.)

Richmond, Sept. 11.—The Corporation Commission resumed the freight rate hearing today and again took up the C. & O. case. E. D. Hotchkiss, traffic manager, was recalled and was the first and only witness of the day.

Mother and Daughter Assaulted.

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 11.—The minds of the people of his city are at a fever pitch over the atrocious assault by a negro upon Mrs. Beatrice Frankish and her daughter, Gussie Leech, on a lonely road leading from Brandywine Springs Park, Sunday night, and the utmost caution is being taken by the police to prevent a repetition of the White lynching. The police have under arrest Walter Russell, a negro, Excitement ran so high throughout the city last night, that the entire police force was on duty, and another negro, Robert Lee, was taken in custody charged with the crime, hoping to throw the inflamed public off the scent and protect Russell. Last night at Price's Corners, half a mile from the county work house, near the scene of the lynching and burning of White for the murderous rape of Helen Bishop in June, 1904, a number of citizens of Wilmington gathered in hopes of catching the officers as they took Russell to the county jail. Russell is undoubtedly the man wanted, and Wilmington may be the scene of the burning of the negro in a similar manner and frenzy as White was burned.

Three Men Electrocuted.

Rushville, Ind., Sept. 11.—Oliver Gore, aged 60, white, and Reuden Boatwright, 55, and W. Pittiford, 65, colored, was accidently electrocuted on a wire fence along the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Railroad line this morning. Lightning yesterday evening struck one of the poles of the traction company just west of the Bowers House, and the insulator was broken, and the wire carrying 500 volts fell across the fence and charged it. Today, the men who were employed at the gravel pit, were going to their work, and, as usual, climbed on the fence. Their bodies fell to the ground where they were found by a fellow-worker,

Sir Thomas Lipton.

London, Sept. 11.—Before the return of Sir Thomas Lipton from his trip to the United States on which he sails Sept. 21, he will definitely decide whether or not he will issue another challenge for the America's cup, according to the Evening Standard. Sir Thomas has the question under such serious consideration that he has consulted several designers in regard to the construction of a new challenger. He is expected to confer with yachting authorities while in America, and his decision will rest upon what he thinks of the chances of success after his foreign tour.

Ohio Republicans.

Dayton, O., Sept. 11.—The State republican convention will convene at four o'clock this afternoon. The indications are that Senators Dick and Foraker have won their fight for indorsement over the reform forces led by Congressman Burton. The party in the State has divided into two factions. There has been much opposition to the Ohio Senators because they did not support the President and his policies. There is also a strong feeling that Dick should not be retained as State chairman. The bossism cry has been raised in the discussion.

Sultan Has Cancer.

Constantinople, Sept. 21.—Sultan Abdul Hamid II. is afflicted with cancer. This the latest explanation of the illness of the Turkish ruler, which has caused considerable alarm as to his eventual recovery, and accounts for the secrecy which has been maintained in regard to the disease from which the Sultan has been suffering for some time. Prof. Bergmann, the German specialist, who was summoned some time ago to treat the Sultan, has been recalled to Constantinople to examine his royal patient.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

According to a dispatch from Halifax, N. S., the fate of Arthur J. Moxham, his wife and two children, is still unknown. It is reported that they were drowned by the wreck of their yacht, the Adele.

Persistent reports going the rounds in New York today have it that William E. Corey, the millionaire steel man, and Miss Mabel Gilman, the actress, are to be married soon in Paris, after which they will start on an extensive honeymoon tour abroad.

It is understood in New York that the United Metal Shelling Company is now selling no copper under nineteen cents a pound, and some is being sold at still higher quotations, depending on deliveries.

What is believed to be an organized band of housebreakers last night broke into twenty-six houses at Cumblers Heights, near Harrisburg, Pa., and got away with money and jewelry from all of them.

The Recent Assaults.

The managers of Luna Park have offered one hundred dollars reward for the arrest and conviction of the party or parties guilty of the two murderous assaults that have been made upon patrons of the park recently. Mr. George E. Gill, manager of the park, says: "Although the assaults have been committed outside of our grounds, and we are not in no way responsible for them, we will pay the reward named."

The authorities of Alexandria county believe that the person who attacked and robbed Miss Mabel Risley and Mr. Morris Gooding, near Luna Park Sunday night, is the same person who committed a similar attack upon Miss Tessie Bywater, of Rappahannock, Va., and Mr. Joseph Settle, of Washington, at the same place last Thursday night.

The place where the attack was made is a thickly-wooded spot, with dense underbrush, and is some distance away from the park inclosure. In order to reach it one has to walk about two hundred yards from the main entrance to the park, along the railway tracks to the end of the park fence, and then follow a path about one hundred yards to a spring, which is located on what is known as the Hume property. Both assaults were committed in almost the same spot, in close proximity to the spring.

The report that Mr. Gooding fired at the assailant Sunday night is denied by Miss Risley, and it is stated that Gooding was not armed. Miss Risley is still suffering from nervous shock, and the abrasions upon her throat and arms made by the fingers of the man with whom she struggled while her escort went for assistance, caused her much pain. She is positive she can identify her assailant, whom she describes as a negro of medium height, wearing black clothing. He had a slight mustache. It is said that Miss Risley and Mr. Gooding are to be married soon.

The condition of Miss Tessie Bywater, who was with Joseph Settle when he was dangerously wounded by a highwayman near Luna Park last Thursday night, has not much improved. The young woman is suffering greatly from nervous shock, and her awful experience has had a debilitating effect upon her constitution. She is at the home of Mrs. Forrest, 825 Queen street, where she expects to remain a week or more before returning to her home in Virginia. Miss Bywater says she has been so completely unnerved by her experience that she is afraid to venture outside the house, and that she fears she will never again be herself.

At the Emergency Hospital in Washington yesterday it was stated that Mr. Settle is doing as well as could be expected. The bullet, which struck him in the mouth, has been removed. Mr. Settle's aged father, who lives in Rappahannock county, came to Washington as soon as he heard of the affair.

There are no new developements in the assault case today. The colored man who was arrested at one of the brick yards, near this city yesterday and lodged in jail, has not yet been examined. The report that a colored man had been found dead near St. Elmo, with a bullet wound in his back is denied.

Sneak Thieves.

About half-past 8 o'clock last night a sneak thief entered Mr. William Demaine's residence, on the northeast corner of King and Alfred streets. The noise he made attracted the attention of members of the family, who were on the pavement at the time, two of whom each armed with a pistol, started in the house. The thief, hearing approaching footsteps, struck a match and lighted the gas in the bath room, by which he was enabled to see his way out, and made his escape without carrying anything away with him

About an hour later a thief was heard in another residence on Alfred street, near Cameron, and a call was sent to the station house. The intruder made his escape before the arrival of an officer. Nothing has been missing from the house.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Benjamin Johnson, colored, arrested by Officers Young and Lyles charged with assaulting and beating Mary Johnson, was fined $10.

Samuel Miller, colored, arrested by the same officers charged with assaulting Elmer Turner, was fined $5.

Charles Carwell, arrested by Officer Beach charged with stealing goods from George Welker, was sent to jail for six months.

James Johnson, colored, arrested by Chief Goods for abusive language and disorderly conduct, was fined $10.

Wm. Chiakalos, suspected of stealing $300 from Mantis Bros., was dismissed.

Preparing for the Season.

Arrangements are being made by Messrs. Henry Steiner, Jerome Kaufmann and Harry Dachslager, a committee of the Thursday Night Assembly, for the season's dances at McBurney's Hall, which promise to be as popular as ever, as the committee has an entirely new orchestra of well-known Washington musicians. Those who receive invitations are assured of a pleasant time. The opening dance of the Assembly will be given Thursday, October 4, at 8:30 o'clock, and the Assembly will give a dance every Thursday during the season.

A Modern Barge.

The barge J. H. Marvil, from Norfolk, with fertilizer to the Bryant Fertilizer Company, has arrived. The Marvil, which is commanded by Captain W E. Cordrey, is modern in every particular and is a specimen of the evolution of the old time barge into an up-to-date vessel of large carrying capacity. She is fitted with every modern appliance, including a gasoline launch, and the windlass is operated by a gasoline engine. The Marvil is named after a grandson of the late Governor Marvil of Delaware.

Circuit Court for the City.

[Judge C. E. Nicol presiding.]

In the Circuit Court for Alexandria city today the case of Mary C. Hansborough, administratrix of the estate of her husband, George Hansborough, against the Southern Railway Company came up for trial. The suit is for damages to the amount of $10,000 for the death of Hansborough, alleged to have occurred in an accident in which he was struck by an engine of the defendant company as he was driving a wagon across the track near the Belle Pre glass factory, just north of this city, about a year ago. The case was first tried in the Corporation Court for the city and was later taken to the Court of Appeals, which reversed the decision of the Corporation Court for the plaintiff. Messrs. Norton & Boothe represent Mrs. Hansborough, and Mr. C. C. Carlin, local counsel for the Southern Railway, appeared for the defendant company. The case was in progress when this report closed.

Case Dismissed.

The case of William Chiakalos, arrested several days ago on suspicion of stealing $300 from Mantis Bros., fruit dealers, came up in the Police Court this morning. Chiakalos was represented by Mr. L. P. Harlow, and Mr. L. H. Machen appeared for Mantis Bros. Justice Caton, after listening to all the plaintiff averred, summed up the case in which he ruled that the evidence against the suspected man was insufficient to send him on to the grand jury and dismissed Chiakalos. Should any additional facts be discovered tending toward substantiating the charge against the defendant he can be rearrested.

After the initiation of one young man the good of the order was taken up when speeches were made by several members in regard to pushing the temperance cause. The secretary was instructed by the lodge to send a telegram of greeting to Delegate J. B. Hughes, who is now attending the Grand Lodge of Rechabites at Zanesville, Ohio.

Will Present Claims.

The meeting in Schuler's Hall last Sunday afternoon was attended by about 25 persons who were employed by the federal government during the four years of civil war in the commissary and quartermaster's departments in Alexandria. The object is to present a claim to the government. The originators of the movement claim that others employed in such capacities during the war have been awarded different sums on the ground that while they were not soldiers they were likely to be sent to any point.

A Narrow Escape.

The driver of one of the carts belonging to the Alexandria Fertilizer and Chemical Company attempted to run his vehicle across the railroad track at Princess and Union streets yesterday when a moving train collided with the cart and forced it against some cars on the other track. It was shoved some distance before the train was stopped. Strange to say, neither the cart nor horse was injured.

Love Plants of West Indies.

"Did you ever hear of the love plant?" asked a sea captain who was showing several visitors over his craft the other day. "I have several in the cabin."

He showed three small leaves attached to the ceiling by strings. They were without any soil or foundation, but were green, and from each there sprouted a dozen or more little leaves, greener and fresher than the main leaf itself.

"During our last cruise in the West Indies," the captain continued, "I visited a deserted English fortress, which was grown over with shrubbery. A native plucked several leaves from a vine and told me to hang them somewhere and write the name of my best girl on them. 'If they die,' he said, 'she does not love you. If they sprout, she does.' I put my wife's name on one and my two daughters' names on the others. You see, although they have been without nourishment for three months, all three are sprouting well and my family's affections seem assured."—Philadelphia Record.

Colors.

White is the emblem of light, religious purity, innocence, faith, joy and life. In the judge it indicates integrity; in the sick, humility; in the woman, chastity. Red, the ruby, signifies fire, divine love and royalty. White and red roses express love and wisdom. Blue, or the sapphire, expresses heaven, the firmament, truth from a celestial origin, constancy and fidelity. Yellow or gold is the symbol of the sun, of marriage and faithfulness. Green, the emerald, is the color of spring, of hope—particularly of the hope of immortality and of victory, as the color of the laurel and palm. Violet, the amethyst, signifies love and truth or passion and suffering. Purple and scarlet signify things good and true from a celestial origin. Black corresponds to despair, darkness, earthliness, mourning, negation, wickedness and death.

A Rhapsody on a Mutton Chop.

When a primitive man wants breakfast he takes a sheep, kneels upon it, holds it between his legs and cuts its throat. He skins it, and, taking a slice out of it, fries it on the coals for breakfast. We also demand not less imperatively cutlets for our breakfast, but we manage it another way. We procure an individual some way off to kill the beast and another out of our sight to cook it. We have a paper frill put around the bone to disguise it, and set a pot of flowers straight before us to look at while we eat it; but, to the sheep—to the sheep—it can make little difference which way it is eaten. We still do our unclean work, but we do it by proxy. And it may be questioned whether what we gain in refinement we have not lost in sincerity.—Fortnightly Review.

The Mineral Jade.

Most people have probably seen jade ornaments without having a very clear idea of the material of which such things are composed. Jade is an exceedingly tough but beautiful mineral, much of which is found in China. It is of five colors, the most highly prized jade being the white, yellow and green varieties. The rarest of all is red jade, but this is so scarce that it has no place in market valuations. The mineral is frequently found in the beds of streams, and in searching for it Mohammedans are generally employed, as it is believed that people of this faith are sensitive to its presence, and, like the dowsers or water finders, are affected with shuddering fits when passing over a place where jade is to be found.

Animals Clever With Their Feet.

Goats are the most sure footed of our native animals. They can walk upright where the average human being would not crawl. Horses are the daintiest treaders, however, though they cannot climb. No horse will step on a man if it can possibly help it. It is a standing rule in cavalry regiments that if a trooper is dismounted he must remain perfectly still, when the whole column passes over him without injuring him. Camels are careless, on the other hand, and the man who came out unharmed from under the feet of a camel corps was not born to be run over by any beast or vehicle.

Aerated Water.

Artificially aerated drinking waters were the invention of the chemist Joseph Priestley, who in 1772 published his "Directions For Impregnating Water With Fixed Air In Order to Communicate to It the Peculiar Spirit and Virtues of Pyrmont Water and Other Mineral Waters of a Similar Nature." Some one has calculated the consumption of aerated waters in Great Britain and Ireland to amount to 200,000,000 gallons a year.—London Standard.

The Ruling Passion.

"Now I've queered myself for good with Miss Prettyface."

"What did you do?"

"I started to write a proposal to her, but I'm so used to writing business instead of love letters that I told her I wanted the refusal of her hand."—Baltimore American.

That should make you think about preparing your Children's School Outfits. But little more than two weeks to do it in, it would be advisable to begin now.
